Samples of Grains Wanted

Canadian Northern Railway Invite Farmers to Send in Samples for Exhibition Purposes

About three months ago the News published an article regarding samples of Grains and Grasses for exhibition purposes. Samples sent in will be exhibited next year at various fairs and exhibitions throughout the country, and should materially assist in bringing this district prominently before the right class of people. Up to the present time no samples have been sent in, and it seems to us that this opportunity for advertising our district should not be overlooked.

Sheaves should be bound in at least two places to keep the heads good and should be packed very carefully.

In making up the sheaves, which should be at least six inches in diameter, care should be observed in selecting the samples. The better the sheaf the better the advertising.

The station agent here will be pleased to cooperate with any organization that may take the matter up providing a sufficient number of samples are prepared for shipment. Two crates should be furnished about nine feet long, three feet wide and about two and a half feet deep. Each sheaf of grain should be properly tagged, showing the name of the farmer and where it was grown.

Letter from the Front

Corporal L. B. Dunford, 20055,
Despatch Rider, R.E.
Signal Headquarters,
1st. Cav. Div. R.E.F.,
17th. Sept. 1915.

Dear Charley:

At last your "cher freere" Lancelot B. sits himself down to thank you for the regular arrival of the "Oyen News" and to congratulate you on your journalistic venture. I sincerely hope that everything is doing A. I., and that you yourself are in the "pink". As no doubt you know by Matus (two seem to have written each other so often the last few years) I have been in France since October, 1910, and was still abroad when war broke out. I enlisted in October, 1914 and have had many narrow squeaks and exciting times which I should love to tell you of but I am afraid that our friend the "Censor" would not be of the same mind. It will all keep however. Ernest has been doing great things with the Canadians and has been recommended for bravery on the field. We have both been home on leave and both hope to obtain commissions in the near future.

I can of course speak French fluently and have a got a very good situation in Rouen which is being kept open for me after the cessation of hostilities.

I shall be delighted to have a letter from you and hope this reaches you safely.

With kind regards and best wishes of "Good Luck".
Your loving brother

LANCER

Your paper has been read at the Front within a mile of the German trenches. Will send you a photo soon. L. B. D.

One of the local Nimrods who was out shooting last Monday attempted to break the World's record long jump, and failed. He lit—or rather we should say he lighted, right in the centre of the creek, to the astonishment of "Henry" and the amusement of the other fellow.

"The Smith, a mighty man is he, etc."

Are you making money, on the stock exchange or elsewhere as a result of this war? Then remember that Canada is filled with the dependents of soldiers who have sacrificed their positions, their incomes, and in many cases their limbs and their lives in this war, and that your absolute duty is to see that none of these dependents come to want.

We notice that Miss Selma Tabba commented the seven wonders of Saskatoon in the Sherbrooke column. Oyen has more than seven wonders, but naming seven in order of merit we have—
Dr. Swartzlander's new Ford.
Pet. Steffenen waiting on table.
Chas. Wilson addressing a pool hall.
Jas. Lees jumping Sounding Creek.
Roy Meacham playing smoker.
Bill Bickert playing poker.
S. A. Miller's home cooking.
Etc., Etc.

"What did she say that tickled the person?"
"Told him that he did not seem a bit like a druggist."

A Poem

The editor sat in his hard hat-ton chair.
Trying to think of a thought.
He ploughed his fingers about in his hair.

But not a new topic they found.
He had written on temperance, tariff and trade.
And the prospect of raising a crop.

And joked about ice cream and week luncheon.
Till his readers explored him to sleep.

Then, weary of thinking sleep came to his eyes.
When the thoughts while awake had refused to arise.
Came intrude that verse strange and grotesque.

And as the ideas airy float,
He selects the best of the tribe.
And this is the gem, while dreaming, he wrote

"NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE."
The third line of this "poem" lets me out.—(Ed.)
